

What a crappy week this was. Just one damned obituary after another. First of all, Bob Clarke, from MAD Magazine, died on Sunday. He was 87. If you read MAD at any point from the early sixties on up through the nineties, you knew Clarke's work. He could do anything but where he really shone [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/04/06/a-really-bad-week-with-a-lot-of-goodbyes/>