

Calvin & Hobbes creator Bill Watterson received the Grand Prix award this weekend in France at the 41st annual Angoulême International Comics Festival, honoring his lifetime achievement. The prize is awarded to a living comics creator, and traditionally the winner serves as president of the jury for the following year's festival; previous honorees have included [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/02/bill-watterson-wins-grand-prix-at-angouleme/>