

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2010/09/comic-stores-vs-the-economy-a-grim-tale-of-two-retailers/>

Economic forces continue to take a toll on comic retailers — online stores and brick-and-mortar shops alike — a gloomy reality illustrated by two recent developments. The first comes from Khepri Comics, the 12-year-old Internet bookseller specializing in independent comics and the works of creators like Brian Wood, Becky Cloonan, Ross Campbell and Cliff Chiang. [...]