

Legal | Hirofumi Watanabe admitted Thursday in Tokyo District Court to sending hundreds of threatening letters to bookstores, convenience stores and convention centers associated with Tadatoshi Fujimaki's manga Kuroko's Basketball. The motive, the 35-year-old man said, was jealousy of Fujimaki's success; Watanabe reasoned that, "If I somehow managed to harass and depress him, I could [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/03/comics-a-m-kurokos-basketball-threat-suspect-admits-to-charges/>