

If you're observant and know your vintage comics characters, you may already be familiar with this guy: Cosmo the Merry Martian, who had his own Archie Comics title for six issues in the 1950s, back when the Space Race was a thing, and has appeared sporadically in the publisher's digests ever since. A couple of [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/01/cosmo-the-merry-martian-flies-back-to-riverdale/>