

Normally, when we talk about art – which, of course, is different from mere entertainment – we like to phrase it in rarefied terms. We tend to want our art to focus on the examination or discussion of high-minded ideals like truth, beauty, justice, wisdom, or the existence of a sentient spiritual being and subsequent afterlife. [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/02/ew-gross-scatology-and-art-in-prison-pit-and-ant-colony/>