

The future of SDCC ZombieWalk: San Diego, held annually during Comic-Con International, is uncertain after a car drove into a crowd of participants and spectators Saturday, injuring three. A scheduled Oct. 26 event has been called off. "Yes, the October walk is canceled," organizers posted on their Facebook page. "We are evaluating continuing at all, [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/07/future-of-zombiewalk-uncertain-after-comic-con-accident/>