

The public library system in Hertfordshire, England, has restricted who can check out graphic novels that are classified as “adult” — which includes not only mature-reader titles but also comics aimed at a broader audience, such as Batman and The Avengers, according to the local newspaper. Often, these sorts of stories start with a parent [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/05/hertfordshire-libraries-restrict-graphic-novel-borrowing-by-age/>