

When it came time for 7-year-old Alex, who was born with a partially developed right arm, to be presented with a 3D-printed bionic limb developed by Albert Manero, Robert Downey Jr. wanted in on the action. Dressed as bionics expert Tony Stark, the star greeted the young superhero fan in a hotel room, where Downey [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2015/03/iron-mans-robert-downey-jr-presents-boy-with-real-bionic-arm/>