

Last night, MSNBC's The Rachel Maddow Show devoted a full 10-minute segment to March, its creators Rep. John Lewis, Andrew Aydin and Nate Powell, and to Martin Luther King and the Montgomery Story, the 1958 comic that helped to inspire the civil-rights movement. While many authors, musicians and politicians have cited increased sales and profiles [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/11/march-sales-spike-after-rachel-maddow-show-segment/>