

It's not quite the big deal it was when I was a kid, but we still get jazzed in our household for the fall television premieres. Part of it's probably a hangover from what TV was like when I was growing up. There was no such thing as on-demand home video of any kind back [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/10/11/premiere-week/>