

Although Saturday at Comic-Con International was dominated by movies and television — led by Warner Bros. Pictures, Marvel Studios and Legendary Pictures — there was still room for plenty of comics news. First and foremost, the announcement of Marvel's Star Wars plans. That line, telling canonical stories set between the events of Star Wars: A [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/07/sdcc-day-3-the-force-is-with-marvel/>