

As some of you more creatively minded types know, November is something called NaNoWriMo (National Novel Writing Month – frequently shortened to the even shorter NaNo). NaNo happens every November and is an experiment in writing a novel (or at least 50,000 words of one) that novelists everywhere (both professional and amateur alike) participate in. [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/11/04/she-has-no-head-the-science-of-fandom/>