

Ok, there is very little here but it's a slow news day and we haven't heard Hathaway so much as mention TDKR in interviews in quite a while. It's only a few seconds long and Hathaway basically just expresses her admiration for Tim Burton's Batman movies and says that Christopher Nolan's The Dark Knight is one of her favorite film's from the last few years.. I find it hard to believe that Entertainment Tonight sent this guy to interview Anne Hathaway without even making sure that he knew who Christopher Nolan was. But there you go. I'm sure Hathaway is delighted that Will.I.Am thinks it's "dope" that she is playing Catwoman. By TwitterButtons.com
