

Chris Evans gives us the scoop on 'Captain America:The First Avenger', how he researched the character, and the difference between his role as Johnny Storm and Cap. ON RESEARCHING THE CHARACTER “[I read] as many comic books as possible. [...] You have to get a sense of who the fans are expecting to see, who they have in their head as far as Captain America is concerned. [But] at the end of the day [...] you’re making the script that’s given to you.” ON THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PLAYING THE HUMAN TORCH AND CAP “In Fantastic Four, they only want to talk to Jessica Alba, which is perfect for me, because if I had my way, I’d never say anything. This movie, it’s a lot more demand as far as promotion is concerned, which is scary ... I struggle with it at times... But Fantastic Four certainly helped break me in to understand the amount that

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/NuffSaid/news/?a=38782&t=Chris Evans Dishes on Captain America and Fantastic Four