"You live such an exciting life...I'm locked down in this cellar, unable to move, to do anything. Give me you memories. Not all of them but just...just a taste of what it's like." --HECTOR HAMMOND --> Comic Book History Who is HECTOR HAMMOND? HECTOR HAMMOND is a DC super-villain with strong mental powers who occasionally appears in Green Lantern comics. John Broome and Gil Kane created HECTOR HAMMOND; the character first appeared in Green Lantern (Volume 2) #5. (1961) First Appearance HECTOR HAMMOND started out as a petty criminal laying low in the California hills when he discovered a glowing meteorite that has the ability to evolve life forms. HECTOR HAMMOND would then willingly expose himself to the meteorite. The radiation causes his brain to grow to enormous size, granting him psionic powers as well as immortality in the process. Hector unfortunately, had his body became immobilized and he loses the power to speak. Trapped

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/pollmaster/news/?a=39700&t=HECTOR_HAMMOND_Mental_Master