

In an interview with Screenrant about his role in upcoming animated movie, Hop, the actor was quizzed about his roles in the X-Men trilogy and Superman Returns. "I know so little about First Class. I'm still happy they're making the X-Men movies, and Fox is smart they can keep making these movies with the wealth of back story – you could do a spin-off of every character. The challenge of the first was having ten to fifteen characters and having enough time to establish who they are, especially with the years of back story. But I don't look back and feel any disappointment. I'd love to come back and do a new one with the original group, but they're busy." "As for Superman, I'm glad they're doing it. And I just read that Amy Adams was cast as Lois Lane (his co-star in Enchanted), which is perfect. I look at every

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=34177&t=James Marsden Shares His Thoughts On iSuperman And iX-Men Reboots