

I thought at first that the pic of Bale was snapped as the actor arrived on set, but apparently this is him in character as Bruce Wayne. The scene that was said to have been shooting involved Wayne in heated conversation with Alfred, before he rushes off to board a plane. Of course we have no way of knowing how true this is, but that's the story. The pics come courtesy of the fan community over at the TDKR FB page, much appreciated and keep up the great work guys. We will keep an eye out to see if any better snaps are taken, and update accordingly. By
