

The Autobots, led by Optimus Prime, are back in action, taking on the evil Decepticons, who are determined to avenge their defeat in 2009's Transformers Revenge of the Fallen. In this new movie, the Autobots and Decepticons become involved in a perilous space race between the U.S. and Russia, and once again human Sam Witwicky has to come to the aid of his robot friends. There's new characters too, including a new villain in the form of Shockwave, a longtime "Transformers" character who rules Cybertron while the Autobots and Decepticons battle it out on Earth. Talking to MTV during their movie awards and thanks to Cinema Blend who posted it, check out what the actor has to say right below: "I'm not coming back to do another one." And actually it sounds like if Paramount wants more (and come on, these things are a cash cow, they will), the whole thing may have

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Jolt17/news/?a=39159&t=Shia_La_Beouf_is_Quitting_iTransformers_iFranchise_Talks_About_Reboot