

Once again taking to Twitter, here's what Stan "The Man" Lee had to say about his lack of cameo in X-Men: First Class and his seemingly confirmed one in The Avengers. Warriors mine, grieve thee not that I have no cameo in X-Men 1st Class. 'Tis just that the movie was filmed too far away for me to attend. Bryan Singer, the brilliant director of X-Men 1st Class, is a good friend of your beloved Generalissimo and we all wish him well. But know ye t his, I have already completed my roles in Captain America and the new Spider-Man, so all is well in Cameo Land. Next up--The Avengers. Unless they shoot it on the Moon nothing shall keep thy leader from making his awesome presence known! Excelsior! Huh, perhaps someone should tell Stan that it's actually Matthew Vaughn directing! Still, with no invite to the set (and little to no involvement with the movie)

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=37404&t=Stan Lee Explains Why Hes Not In iX-Men First Classi Confirms iAvengersi Cameo