While promoting her new show Breakout Kings Serinda Swan took time out to talk to the guys at IGN about a possible return to the show. On making the schedules work: "We were talking to them, actually, at the end of last year, about trying to make the schedules work. I think our scheduling might not work properly, but they definitely called and we've been talking and I love Zatanna and would love to get her back. They were sort of the first people that gave me a big, chunky, juicy role and so we'd love to be able to go back and kind of finish it off with them. But we'll see. Hopefully with schedule permitting, we'll be able to do something!" On trying to fit it in on her days off: "It's not like I can go in and shoot two days and come back, because of the flight and with the
