

While the rating for this week's episode of Arrow was down about 22% from last week's which featured the second part of the Flash/Arrow team-up, it was still the second most watched episode of the season, and that is great news as it heads into the mid-season finale with a major cliffhanger. Arrow is abducted by members of the League of Assassins including Nyssa and Oliver's friend from Hong Kong...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/arrow-climb-review_article_141025.html