

It's 1986, and Russia is trying to win the cold by bio engineering and weaponizing the one thing American's can't resist- Cocaine. No respectable Hollywood pool party would be complete without megawatt celebrities and mountains of nose candy, and that's just what the Soviets are counting on...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/comic-review-night-80s-undead-1_article_138645.html