

The good news is that this week's episode of Constantine was at least shown in its proper order. The bad news is that since the Jim Corrigan episode two weeks ago the ratings have been in decline and things simply don't look good for this series. Whether or not it lasts the full 13 episodes that have been produced remains to be seen but it seems unlikely that it will be renewed for a second season without some sort of fan movement intervention...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/constantine-blessed-damned-review_article_140990.html