

The New York Comic Con transpired last weekend and Mania was in attendance. As always, we like to bring you the flavor of the Con as well as the Cosplayers. This year just felt different. It was very crowded, and by very I mean it was too crowded. There were tons of big displays from Marvel, IDW, and Image Comics. The strange thing was that there was no DC Comic Book presence. There was a big display for the 75th Anniversary of Superman (see pics below), but no DC booth...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/new-york-comic-2013-cosplay-flavor-more_article_138555.html