

Action star Jason Statham will soon be killing some villains on the silver screen but only when he's truly forced to do so. Variety reports the star has signed to lead an adaptation of the late Donald Westlake's book series Parker, a new thriller out of Incentive Filmed Entertainment and Sidney Kimmel Entertainment. With over 24 books from Westlake, there's a hope for some franchise potential...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/statham-honors-parker-code_article_129606.html